DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Claims 9-33 stand withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim.

Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on March 10, 2006.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Turner (4,658,836). Applicant's attention is directed to Figure 12. The intended use of the device lacks patentable moment. Further, the diameter and length are disclosed at column 10, line 63+. The helical electrodes are deemed to possess the pitch limitation in light of the broad disclosure of the feature in the specification.

Claims 1-4, 7, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being clearly anticipated by Shelchuk et al (6,882,887). Applicant's attention is directed to Figures 3 and 7. The intended use of the device lacks patentable moment. The helical electrodes are deemed to possess the pitch limitation in light of the broad disclosure of the feature in the specification.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The cited art discloses various double helix electrodes.
